

septclues.com/c5 — Update December 2021:

This info file's name will always contain the date of my latest c5 version. So please don't unnecessarily download the same PDFs multiple times if you already have the latest version on your hard drive.

This website is used by Simon Shack as a storage for images that he included on his website septemberclues.info or on the forum cluesforum.info. He was kind enough to also upload my PDFs here, so that I don't have to resort to any One-Click-Hosters where they may or may not get deleted.

The PDF files are the result of my own private research over the years when I browsed all kinds of websites on the Internet. They mostly contain information which can be summed up with the unpopular term "conspiracy theories." It is basically a compilation of my best findings which by now have become quite numerous. I could never bring myself to start blogging, so I opted for this PDF solution in order to share my views. Since hardly anyone has time to read these days, I have created four teasers for my rather large compendium, as they may be easier to digest in a short amount of time.

Should you find my texts offensive, I still advise you to read on. Here's why: When a young child says "uncle made me naked and did sex to me", family members will be reluctant to believe the accusation. However, if they are not willing to get to the bottom of it, this crime in question will never be solved and the child may indeed suffer a lot. Apply this to my c5. I basically say, that WE ALL are being abused by certain powerful people within our society. But instead of berating me, the messenger, people rather ought to get to the bottom of the conspiracy theories. Some of them have already been proved to an extent that leaves no doubt anymore. Once you realize this, you may find yourself taking back your initial hate for the messenger. Keep in mind: the more you believe in a lie, the more anger it will bring forth in you until you find out that it really WAS a lie. So please don't be mad at me for calling out the things that my own research concluded to be a lie. I am merely trying to strive for truth, however uncomfortable it may turn out to be.

Also, don't be mad at me for not spreading my knowledge base any time sooner. After dropping out of university half a decade ago in order to bring truth to the world, I had to work low-wage jobs to finance my years-long endeavor. And since no one really believed in me enough to invest in my work, this right now is the time I managed to be done with it. Be happy with what you got and don't blame me for being "too late" or for what's happening in the world right now. I have turned my whole life upside down and worked my ass off these last few years to PREVENT this from happening. HAVE YOU?

That said, I have now lost my job due to not complying with Germany's regulations regarding Covid-19. And being unvaccinated, it looks like I will not be able to get any other job in this country anymore, let alone governmental funding. Therefore, in contrast to my previous c5 versions, I decided to put a donation button on my compendium's last page. Otherwise, I don't see how else I will be able to stay afloat in this country. Though, to be honest, seeing how very unappreciative people have treated the authors of truth over the years, I have my doubts as to whether the donation button will be of any help at all. But donation or not, I will still check incoming emails as long as I have a roof over my head and a notebook with a stable Internet connection. So about two months left now...

Honestly, if I look back what I have taken upon me to help this society catch up to the lies and compare it with what I have gotten in return so far, it makes me lose faith in humanity. With my low-wage jobs (and a student loan's debt to pay along the way) I somehow still managed to hit the donation buttons of truth and fill them with over 10,000 Euros of my own hard earned money within a few years. And despite going to work, I still managed to research, compare, compile and translate hundreds of pages, which is why I now have my PDFs to show for it. Yet in return for my diligently performed enterprise, people thank me by pretty much ousting me from this society if I don't submit to the new draconian laws. This is a clear sign for me that I am no longer welcome here anymore. I have become a persona non grata. People have no regard for truth anymore, else they wouldn't support the liars but the truthers instead. Well, they don't. They don't care enough for the truth. In fact, they hate it. They hate it so much that they would rather exile its proponents instead of stepping up and facing the liars. Thus, humanity's fate still stands and is proved by everyone's actions day in, day out. This species' "deadline" is nearing...

But enough of my rant. You will find more information in my PDFs.

Enjoy.
